JURISDICTION AND VENUE

10. This is a civil action for patent infringement arising under the patent laws of the United States, 35 U.S.C. § 100 et. seq., and jurisdiction is proper under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1331, 1338(a), 2201, and 2202.

15. On information and belief, Grace is in the business of, among other things, preparing and/or aiding in the preparation and submission of ANDAs to FDA from its office in this Judicial District, including Defendants' ANDA. In the Notice Letter, Somaraju Indukuri, Ph.D, U.S. Agent for Grace Consulting Services, Inc., was identified as the person authorized to accept service of process for any patent infringement complaint. submission of ANDAs to FDA in New Jersey. On information and belief, Grace derives substantial revenue from the preparation of ANDAs in New Jersey and has availed itself of the privilege of conducting business within New Jersey.

17. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Annora because, inter alia, it: (1) has purposefully availed itself of the privilege of doing business in New Jersey, including directly or indirectly through its subsidiaries, agents, and/or alter egos, Grace, a company located in Piscataway, New Jersey and designated by Annora as U.S. Agent for service in the Notice Letter and Hetero USA, a company registered with the State of New Jersey's Department of Health as a drug manufacturer and wholesaler; and (2) maintains extensive and systematic contacts with the State of New Jersey, including the preparation and submission of Defendants' ANDA to FDA in New Jersey including through, directly or indirectly, Grace, and/or marketing, distribution, and/or sale of generic pharmaceutical drugs in New Jersey including through, directly or indirectly, Hetero USA.

This Court has personal jurisdiction over Hetero Labs because, on information and belief, Hetero Labs derives substantial revenue from directly or indirectly selling generic pharmaceutical products and/or active pharmaceutical ingredient(s) used in generic pharmaceutical products sold throughout the United States, including in this Judicial District.

21. This Court has personal jurisdiction over Defendants because, inter alia, Defendants have committed an act of patent infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2) and intend a future course of conduct that includes acts of patent infringement in New Jersey. These acts have led and will lead to foreseeable harm and injury to Plaintiffs in New Jersey. For example, on information and belief, by and through Grace and/or Hetero USA, Defendants prepared and submitted Defendants' ANDA to FDA in New Jersey. Further, on information and belief, following approval of the Defendants' ANDA, Defendants will make, use, import, sell, and/or offer for sale Defendants' ANDA Product in the United States, including in New Jersey, prior to the expiration of the Patents-in-Suit.

22. On information and belief, Annora, Grace, Hetero USA, and Hetero Labs are in the business of, among other things, manufacturing, marketing, importing, offering for sale, and selling pharmaceutical products, including generic drug products, throughout the United States, including in this Judicial District. 27. On information and belief, Hetero Labs intends to benefit directly if Defendants' ANDA is approved by participating in the manufacture, importation, distribution, and/or sale of Defendants' ANDA Product that is the subject of Defendants' ANDA.

28. On information and belief, Annora, Grace, Hetero USA, and Hetero Labs actively participated in the submission of Defendants' ANDA. On information and belief, Annora, Grace, Hetero USA, and Hetero Labs will work in privity and/or concert with respect to the regulatory approval, manufacturing, marketing, sale, and distribution of generic pharmaceutical products, including Defendants' ANDA Product, throughout the United States, including in this Judicial District, prior to the expiration of the Patents-in-Suit.

29. On information and belief, Annora, Grace, and Hetero USA act at the direction, and for the benefit, of Hetero Labs, and are controlled and/or dominated by Hetero Labs.

30. On information and belief, Annora, Grace, Hetero USA, and Hetero Labs operate as a single integrated business.

31. On information and belief, Defendants have a regular and established, physical place of business in New Jersey.

32. On information and belief, Defendants have previously invoked, stipulated, and/or consented to personal jurisdiction in this Judicial District in numerous patent infringement actions.

33. On information and belief, Annora, Hetero USA, and Hetero Labs have previously been sued in this Judicial District and have availed themselves of New Jersey courts through the assertion of counterclaims in suits brought in New Jersey and have not challenged personal jurisdiction. See, e.g., Rigel Pharms., Inc. v. Annora Pharma Private Ltd. et al., Civil Action No. 22-4732 (CLW)(EP) (D.N.J.), Celgene Corporation v. Hetero Labs Limited, et al., Civil Action No. 19-15449 (SDW)(LDW) (D.N.J.); Celgene Corporation v. Hetero Labs Limited, et al., Civil Action No. 19-5797 (ES)(MAH) (D.N.J.).

34. In the alternative, this Court has personal jurisdiction over Annora because the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(k)(2)(A) are met as (a) Plaintiffs' claims arise under federal law; (b) Annora is a foreign defendant not subject to general personal jurisdiction in the courts of any state; and (c) Annora has sufficient contacts with the United States as a whole, including, but not limited to, preparing and submitting an ANDA to the FDA and/or manufacturing and/or selling pharmaceutical products distributed throughout the United States, such that this Court's exercise of jurisdiction over Annora satisfies due process.

35. In the alternative, this Court has personal jurisdiction over Hetero Labs because the requirements of Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 4(k)(2)(A) are met as (a) Plaintiffs' claims arise under federal law; (b) Hetero Labs is a foreign defendant not subject to general personal jurisdiction in the courts of any state; and (c) Hetero Labs has sufficient contacts with the United States as a whole, including, but not limited to, preparing and submitting an ANDA to the FDA and/or manufacturing and/or selling pharmaceutical products distributed throughout the United States, such that this Court's exercise of jurisdiction over Hetero Labs satisfies due process.

36. Venue is proper in this Court under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391 and/or 1400(b).

LEMS AND CATALYST'S FIRDAPSE PRODUCT

37. Lambert-Eaton Myasthenic Syndrome ("LEMS") is a rare and debilitating neuromuscular disorder involving impairment of neuromuscular transmission and serious muscle weakness. Clinically, LEMS is characterized by proximal muscle weakness and fatigability, hyporeflexia, or areflexia, and symptoms of autonomic dysfunction such as impotence, dry mouth, and constipation. Other symptoms may include paresthesias, diplopia, and orthostatic hypotension.

38. The neuromuscular symptoms in patients with LEMS typically develop after 40 years of age with a peak incidence between 50 and 70 years of age. Although the exact prevalence of LEMS in the general population is unknown, it has been estimated to affect approximately 1 in 100,000 people. The diagnosis of LEMS can be challenging since the clinical presentation of subacute progressive fatigue and weakness is unspecific. As a result, diagnosis of LEMS is often delayed for months to decades, and is often misdiagnosed for other diseases such as myasthenia gravis, which is characterized by weakness and rapid fatigue of muscles.

39. Amifampridine, also known as 3,4-diaminopyridine or 3,4-DAP, is a nonspecific voltage-dependent potassium channel blocker. Amifampridine blocks the presynaptic voltage-gated potassium channels resulting in a prolonged action potential and increased influx of calcium, which facilitates the release of acetylcholine from the motor nerve terminal and improves neuromuscular transmission.

40. Catalyst holds New Drug Application (“NDA”) No. 208078 for the use of amifampridine tablets, which it sells under the trade name Firdapse. Catalyst’s Firdapse product received FDA approval on November 28, 2018, and was the first product that FDA approved for the treatment of LEMS based on clinical data demonstrating safety and efficacy. Prior to its approval, Firdapse received breakthrough therapy designation and orphan drug designation from the FDA.

41. Prior to FDA approval of Firdapse, amifampridine was available in the United States only as an investigational drug product in clinical studies or under the FDA’s Expanded Access program, which provides a pathway for a patient to gain treatment to an investigational medical product outside of clinical trials when no comparable or satisfactory alternative therapies are available. No pharmaceutical company, including Defendants, could lawfully market amifampridine for any indication prior to the approval of Firdapse as nobody prior to Catalyst had conducted and submitted the pre-clinical and clinical work necessary to obtain FDA approval.

42. The inventors of the ’088 patent discovered methods of determining the purity of a sample of 3,4 - diaminopyridine comprising determining the presence, absence, or amount of a dimer of 3,4 - diaminopyridine or a dimer of 3,4 - diaminopyridine in the form of a salt , solvate or complex or a combination thereof. The inventors of the ’893, ’128A, ’128B, ’331, and ’332 patents discovered that amifampridine undergoes 3-N-acetylation to form a single major circulating inactive metabolite that subsequently undergoes renal elimination. The inventors also discovered that the acetylation rate of amifampridine varied significantly depending on certain genetic polymorphisms. Based on these discoveries, the inventors developed a method of treating certain diseases with amifampridine. The method accounts for the individual differences in acetylation rates among patients, and administers dosages accordingly.

ACTS GIVING RISE TO THIS ACTION

49. Catalyst is the holder of NDA No. 208078, by which FDA granted approval for 10 mg amifampridine tablets. Catalyst markets these tablets in the United States under the tradename Firdapse.

50. Firdapse and the use of Firdapse in accordance with its label are covered by one or more claims of the Patents-in-Suit.

51. FDA’s Approved Drug Products with Therapeutic Equivalence Evaluations (the “Orange Book”) lists the Patents-in-Suit in connection with Firdapse.

52. In their January 20, 2023 Notice Letter Defendants notified Catalyst and SERB that they had submitted to FDA Defendants’ ANDA, seeking approval for the commercial manufacture, use, and sale of Defendants’ ANDA Product in the United States prior to the expiration of the Patents-in-Suit.

53. In the Notice Letter, Defendants notified Catalyst and SERB that, as a part of Defendants’ ANDA, they had filed a certification under the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, 21 U.S.C. § 355(j)(2)(A)(vii)(IV) with respect to the Patents-in-Suit, asserting that those patents are invalid, unenforceable and/or will not be infringed by the commercial manufacture, use, and sale of the Defendants’ ANDA Product in the United States.

54. By filing Defendants’ ANDA, Defendants have necessarily represented to FDA that, upon approval, Defendants’ ANDA Product will have the same active ingredient, method of administration, dosage form, and strength as Firdapse, and will be bioequivalent to Firdapse.

55. The Notice Letter contained an offer of confidential access, the terms of which the parties have begun negotiating in good faith in an effort to reach a mutually acceptable agreement, and under which Defendants' ANDA would be provided to Plaintiffs. The parties have been unable to reach agreement.

56. The Complaint has been filed before the expiration of forty-five days from the date Catalyst and SERB received the Notice Letter.

COUNT I: INFRINGEMENT OF THE '088 PATENT

57. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1-56 as if fully set forth herein.

58. Defendants' submission of Defendants' ANDA to obtain approval to engage in the commercial manufacture, use, offer for sale, sale and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product in or into the United States, prior to the expiration of the '088 patent, constitutes direct and indirect infringement of the '088 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2)(A), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

59. On information and belief, Defendants' ANDA Product, if approved by FDA, will be manufactured, used, offered for sale, sold, and/or imported in or into the United States by Defendants or on their behalf, and will be administered by patients and/or medical practitioners in the United States according to the directions and instructions in the proposed package insert, which will constitute direct infringement by patients and/or medical practitioners of one or more claims of the '088 patent, under 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents. On information and belief, the administration of Defendants' ANDA Product will occur with Defendants' specific intent and encouragement, and will be conduct that Defendants know or should know will occur. On information and belief, Defendants will actively induce, encourage, aid, and abet that conduct by patients and/or medical practitioners, with knowledge and specific intent that the conduct will be in contravention of Plaintiffs' rights under the '088 patent.

60. On information and belief, Defendants’ manufacturing, use, offer for sale, sale, and/or importation of Defendants’ ANDA Product, once Defendants’ ANDA is approved by FDA, would constitute direct infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), induced infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b), and contributory infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(c) of one or more claims of the ’088 patent, either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents. On information and belief, Defendants intend that Defendants’ ANDA Product be used by patients and medical professionals. Also, on information and belief, Defendants know that Defendants’ ANDA Product is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the ’088 patent, and that the Defendants’ ANDA Product is not suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

61. Plaintiffs will be irreparably harmed if Defendants are permitted to make, use, sell, offer to sell, and/or import Defendants’ ANDA Product in or into the United States, and are not enjoined from doing so. Plaintiffs are entitled to relief provided by 35 U.S.C. §§ 271(e)(4) and/or 283, including an order of this Court that the effective date of approval of Defendants’ ANDA be a date that is not earlier than the expiration date of the ’088 patent, or any later expiration of exclusivity for the ’088 patent to which Plaintiffs are or become entitled, and an injunction against such infringement. Plaintiffs do not have an adequate remedy at law.

62. Defendants have had knowledge of the ’088 patent since at least the date Defendants submitted Defendants’ ANDA and were aware that submission of its Defendants’ ANDA constituted an act of infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2).

63. This case is “exceptional,” and Plaintiffs are entitled to an award of reasonable attorneys’ fees under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

COUNT II: INFRINGEMENT OF THE ’893 PATENT

64. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1-63 as if fully set forth herein.

65. Defendants' submission of Defendants' ANDA to obtain approval to engage in the commercial manufacture, use, offer for sale, sale and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product in or into the United States, prior to the expiration of the '893 patent, constitutes infringement of the '893 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2)(A), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

66. On information and belief, Defendants' manufacturing, use, offer for sale, sale, and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product, once Defendants' ANDA is approved by FDA, would actively, intentionally, and knowingly induce infringement of one or more claims of the '893 patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

67. On information and belief, Defendants' ANDA Product, if approved by FDA, will be manufactured, used, offered for sale, sold, and/or imported in or into the United States by Defendants or on their behalf, and will be administered by patients and/or medical practitioners in the United States according to the directions and instructions in the proposed package insert, which will constitute direct infringement by patients and/or medical practitioners of one or more claims of the '893 patent, under 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents. On information and belief, the administration of Defendants' ANDA Product will occur with Defendants' specific intent and encouragement, and will be conduct that Defendants know or should know will occur. On information and belief, Defendants will actively induce, encourage, aid, and abet that conduct by patients and/or medical practitioners, with knowledge and specific intent that the conduct will be in contravention of Plaintiffs' rights under the '893 patent.

68. On information and belief, Defendants' manufacturing, use, offer for sale, sale, and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product, once Defendants' ANDA is approved by FDA, would contribute to infringement of one or more claims of the '893 patent under 35 U.S.C. §

271(c), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents. On information and belief, Defendants know that Defendants' ANDA Product is especially made or adapted for use in infringing the '893 patent, and that Defendants' ANDA Product is not suitable for substantial non-infringing use.

69. Plaintiffs will be irreparably harmed if Defendants are permitted to make, use, sell, offer to sell, and/or import Defendants' ANDA Product in or into the United States, and are not enjoined from doing so. Plaintiffs are entitled to relief provided by 35 U.S.C. §§ 271(e)(4) and/or 283, including an order of this Court that the effective date of approval of Defendants' ANDA be a date that is not earlier than the expiration date of the '893 patent, or any later expiration of exclusivity for the '893 patent to which Plaintiffs are or become entitled, and an injunction against such infringement. Plaintiffs do not have an adequate remedy at law.

70. Defendants have had knowledge of the '893 patent since at least the date Defendants submitted Defendants' ANDA and were aware that submission of Defendants' ANDA constituted an act of infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2).

71. This case is "exceptional," and Plaintiffs are entitled to an award of reasonable attorneys' fees under 35 U.S.C. § 285.

COUNT III: INFRINGEMENT OF THE '128A PATENT

72. Plaintiffs reallege paragraphs 1-71 as if fully set forth herein.

73. Defendants' submission of Defendants' ANDA to obtain approval to engage in the commercial manufacture, use, offer for sale, sale and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product in or into the United States, prior to the expiration of the '128A patent, constitutes infringement of the '128A patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271(e)(2)(A), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

74. On information and belief, Defendants' manufacturing, use, offer for sale, sale, and/or importation of Defendants' ANDA Product, once Defendants' ANDA is approved by FDA, would actively, intentionally, and knowingly induce infringement of one or more claims of the '128A patent under 35 U.S.C. § 271(b), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents.

75. On information and belief, Defendants' ANDA Product, if approved by FDA, will be manufactured, used, offered for sale, sold, and/or imported in or into the United States by Defendants or on their behalf, and will be administered by patients and/or medical practitioners in the United States according to the directions and instructions in the proposed package insert, which will constitute direct infringement by patients and/or medical practitioners of one or more claims of the '128A patent, under 35 U.S.C. § 271(a), either literally or under the doctrine of equivalents. On information and belief, the administration of Defendants' ANDA Product will occur with Defendants' specific intent and encouragement, and will be conduct that Defendants know or should know will occur. On information and belief, Defendants will actively induce, encourage, aid, and abet that conduct by patients and/or medical practitioners, with knowledge and specific intent that the conduct will be in contravention of Plaintiffs' rights under the '128A patent.
